Barbara Berman

Re: FOIA 15-235

Dear Ms. Berman:

I write to respond to your Freedom of Information request dated March 30, and received in my office on April 2, 2015, in which you requested:

“Pursuant to the Illinois Freedom of Information Act, 5 Ill. Comp. Stat. 140/1 to 140/11.5, I write to request records related to an individual dog used for research at University of Illinois.

This animal's laboratory identification number is (Lab ID Number) 2660. Specifically, the records I seek are any and all intake records, transfer records, daily care logs, animal health records, treatment and progress reports, veterinary reports, necropsy reports, photographs, and videos related to this animal (January 1, 2013-present). I also request any IACUC-approved protocols for any project to which this animal has been assigned since January 1, 2013.”

Information regarding the dog with ID number 2660 is available and attached. These are public documents numbering 125 pages. No record could be located responsive to your request for transfer records, photographs or video.

Portions of these documents have been redacted and the portion of your request seeking medical care records is being denied pursuant to the following section(s) of the Act:

- 140/7(1)(a) that exempts from disclosure “Information specifically prohibited from disclosure by federal or State law or rules and regulations implementing adopted under federal or State law.” The Veterinary Medicine and Surgery Practice Act of 2004 provides, “No veterinarian shall be required to disclose any information concerning the veterinarian's care of an animal except on written authorization or other waiver by the veterinarian's client or on appropriate court order or subpoena.” Thus, veterinary records are prohibited from production by law. In addition, the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) (20 U.S.C. §1232g) protects the privacy of student education records and prohibits the release of any information from a student's education record without the consent of the eligible student. Thus, records describing student academic placements and the names of students were redacted.

- 140/7(1)(b) that exempts from disclosure “Private information, unless disclosure is required by another provision of this Act, a State or federal law or a court order.” This includes signatures and medical records.
- 140/7(1)(c) that exempts from disclosure “Personal information contained within public records, the disclosure of which, if disclosed, would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy, unless the disclosure is consented to in writing by the individual subjects of the information.” This includes student placement information.
- 140/7(1)(d)(vi) of the Act, which exempts from disclosure information that, if released, would “endanger the life or physical safety of law enforcement personnel or any other person.” Pursuant to this exemption, any information that would endanger life or physical safety if released, including the names, email addresses, phone numbers, other personal identifiers, and work locations of employees have been redacted.
- 140/7(1)(g) that exempts from disclosure “Trade secrets and commercial or financial information obtained from a person or business where the trade secrets or commercial or financial information are furnished under a claim that they are proprietary, privileged or confidential, and that or where disclosure of the trade secrets or commercial or financial information would cause competitive harm to the person or business.” This includes information that could expose details about trials, research or confidential information.
- 140/7(1)(i) exempts from production “Valuable formulae, computer geographic systems, designs, drawings and research data obtained or produced by any public body when disclosure could reasonably be expected to produce private gain or public loss.” This includes research information that, if disclosed, could lead to private gain or public loss.
- 140/7(1)(j)(iv) exempts from disclosure “course materials or research materials used by faculty members.” This includes faculty research information.
- 140/7(1)(v) exempts from disclosure “vulnerability assessments, security measures, and response policies or plans that are designed to identify, prevent, or respond to potential attacks upon a community's population or systems, facilities, or installations, the destruction or contamination of which would constitute a clear and present danger to the health or safety of the community, but only to the extent that disclosure could reasonably be expected to jeopardize the effectiveness of the measures or the safety of the personnel who implement them or the public.” This includes facility and security information.

Finally, some information was redacted as it is not responsive to your request. These redactions are in grey rather than black.
